The Board recognizes that some media that has an ‘R’ rating and/or deals with mature subject matter may require parental approval and may yet be appropriate for some educational programs. Before using the media in a classroom, teachers must:

- a) view the material;
- b) be conscientious of the community standards and the appropriateness of such material for instructional purposes;
- c) notify the principal and Superintendent/CEO that material of this nature will be used;
- d) receive a permission slip from each student’s parent(s)/guardian(s), before the student views the material;
- e) ensure that the material falls within proper licensing agreements and fair dealing guidelines for copyrights.
- f) make the material available for parent viewing (copy available at school)
